1. IPSA Conference Madrid 2012

CALL MADRID!!!!

THE RESEARCH COMMITTEE ON POLITICAL SOCIALIZATION AND EDUCATION AT THE IPSA CONFERENCE IN MADRID!

We are pleased to announce that we are preparing the panels of the Research Committee on Political Socialization and Education (RC21) for the 22nd World Congress of Political Science to be held in Madrid on July 8-12, 2012.

Paper proposals

You are welcome to send us your paper proposals (abstracts) for the following three themes by August 16, 2012 (mentioning IPSA RC21 Madrid).

- Theme 1. International political socialization and its effects (national stereotypes, attitudes towards foreign countries, attitudes towards international organizations such as the UN and EU, public diplomacy, attitudes towards war and peace).
- Theme 2. Democracy and Education in the 21st Century.
- Theme 3. Political or educational leadership: what are the explanations for successes or fiasco's? (this is a joint initiative with RC29 on Psycho-politics).

If necessary several sub-panels can be organized, because IPSA no longer puts limits on the number of panels.

Send your proposals to Prof. Christ'l De Landtsheer, Chair of IPSA RC21 (christl.delandtsheer@ua.ac.be) and Prof. Trond Solhaug, General Secretary of IPSA RC21 (trond.solhaug@plu.ntnu.no). Proposals for the joint panel(s) (theme 3) with IPSA RC29 should equally be sent to Prof. Paul Dekker, Chair of IPSA RC29 (p.dekker@scp.nl). Proposals by non-members are also welcome.

All paper proposals must, simultaneously, still be submitted electronically via the online IPSA submission process (deadline for this full electronic submission of paper proposals is October 7, 2011).

Panel proposals

You can also create your own panel to the Research Committee (RC) session on Political Socialization and Education (RC21). In that case, please send your proposals (mentioning IPSA RC21 Madrid) to Prof. Christ'I De Landtsheer, Chair of IPSA RC21 (christl.delandtsheer@ua.ac.be) and Prof. Trond Solhaug, General Secretary of IPSA RC21 (trond.solhaug@plu.ntnu.no) before August 16, 2011 (mentioning IPSA RC21 Madrid). If the proposal is found to be complete and appropriate, we will then be able to transfer it electronically to IPSA by the deadline of August 18, 2011. Proposals by non-members are also welcome.

For more information, visit the IPSA website and click on the tab on the left called "World Congress - Madrid 2012" <http://www.ipsa.org/events/congress/madrid2012/congress-theme>.

Madrid in July may be hot but the conference rooms and very impressive museums are air-conditioned!

3. Details on the journal “Politics, Culture and Socialization”

Dear friend and colleague,

We are proud to let you know that the journal Politics, Culture and Socialization has been recognized over the last year in several countries as a number one peer reviewed journal.

Politics, Culture and Socialization is the journal sponsored by the Research Committee on Political Socialization and Education (RC21) and the Research Committee on Psycho-politics (RC29) of the International Political Science Association (IPSA).

We would like to inform you about the fact that, as a member of the Research Committee on Political Socialization and Education (RC21) and/or the Research Committee on Psycho-politics (RC29) of the International Political Science Association, you are entitled to receive the journal (postage included) at a reduced fee!

The Research Committee IPSA RC21 again, planned a number of exciting expert-meetings in collaboration with the IPSA RC29. Past small RC21-RC29 conferences took place in Budapest (Hungary, 2004), Wuppertal (Germany, 2005), Antwerp (Belgium, 2007), Oslo (Norway, 2008), Aalborg (Denmark, 2010), and Krakow (Poland, 2011), while now destinations such as Moscow (Russia, 2012) and Xuzhou (China, 2013) are in the picture. The membership of IPSA RC21 includes a reduced registration fee to these activities.

After that the presence of our Research Committee RC21 at earlier general IPSA conferences in Fukuoka (Japan, 2006) and Santiago (Chile, 2009) has been highly successful, we are now preparing the participation of the Research Committees RC21 at the general IPSA conference in Madrid (July 8-12, 2012). Again, we will collaborate in this with IPSA RC29 on Psycho-politics, by organizing a joint theme session

In order to find all information about RC21-RC29 membership, coming activities, and the reduced journal subscription to Politics, Culture and Socialization, please take a look at the membership page of the site politicalsocialization.org (<http://www.politicalsocialization.org/membership.php>). The membership fee has not changed compared to 2010.

Best wishes,
Christ’l De Landtsheer, Chair of IPSA RC21
Trond Solhaug, General Secretary of IPSA RC21

Philippe De Vries, Treasurer of IPSA RC21 and IPSA RC29

Recommendations for upcoming conferences can be sent to Lieuwe Kalkhoven (e-mail: Lieuwe.Kalkhoven@ua.ac.be).

Subscription and advertising communications should be addressed to the publisher: Verlag Barbara Budrich, Stauffenbergstr.7,D-51379, Leverkusen-Opladen, Germany (e-mail: barbara.budrich@buderich-verlag.de).

Instructions for authors

Since the journal's circulation is worldwide, the journal welcomes contributions from authors in all parts of the world. Manuscripts should be submitted to the Managing Editor.

Authors' responsibilities include the following:

- Submit a manuscript which has not been submitted for publication or published in any other publication.
- Get written permission to publish lengthy quotations, illustrations, etc. for which the author does not own the copyright.
- Send four copies of the manuscript to the Managing Editor for peer review. Manuscripts can also be sent by e-mail to the Managing editor and to the Co-Managing Editor.

Manuscript preparation instructions:

- Use standard American English.
- Use MS-Word to produce the manuscript.
- Type the title of the article, the name of the author(s), the university affiliation and the correspondence address on the cover page.
- The title should briefly indicate the exact subject of the article.
- Type the title also on the first page of your text.
- The article should begin with a summary – abstract – of about 130 words.
- A list of three to six key words should be provided directly below the abstract. These key words should express the most important content of the manuscript, as they will be used for indexing purposes.
- The text should be as concise and clear as possible.
- Use as few figures and illustrations as possible and only if necessary to clarify the text. Figures and illustrations must be originals or sharp clear photo copies. Number them sequentially, give each a descriptive title, and refer to them in the text. Put each figure and illustration on a separate page at the end of the manuscript.
- Use as few tables as possible and only if necessary to clarify the text. Number them sequentially, give each a descriptive title, and refer to them in the text. Check data for accuracy and make sure that information repeated in the text is correct. Each table should be comprehensible without reference to the text. Put each table on a separate page at the end of the manuscript.

- Do not use foot- or endnotes. Include all necessary reference information directly in the text (e.g.,Brown, 1999, p.22-25).
- Use the Harvard style for the in text references and the reference list.
- Check that all text references cited are listed and that all references listed are cited in the text.
- Check that the spellings of names and publication years in the text agree with the list of references.
- Number each page.
- Print only on one side of the paper.

Review procedure

The journal is committed to high standards of peer review. Each manuscript accepted for review by the managing editor is evaluated by two or more scholars active and publishing in the field of political socialization. Their evaluations help the Executive Editors decide whether to publish a manuscript. The main criteria used in making editorial decisions are scientific originality and contribution to the field of knowledge about political socialization and behavior. After a manuscript has been accepted for publication and after all revisions have been incorporated, the author must submit a hard copy of the final article accompanied by electronic files on CD or diskette. The CD/disk must be the one from which the accompanying finalized version of the manuscript was printed.

Before publication, the author will receive a proof copy to check for typographical errors only. The proof copy and corrections must be returned to the Managing Editor within two weeks of receipt together with a statement transferring copyright from the author(s) to the publisher.

Copyright

All rights are reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means (electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise) without the written permission of the publisher. Authors may use their own contribution elsewhere at any time without permission.
